

STRIKE OF RAIL MEN PREVENTED BY LABOR BOARD

Nation-Wide Tieup Stopped
By Body Declares W.
Jett Lauck.
HAS BIG INFLUENCE
First Industrial Conferences After War Were Dismissal Failures.

Washington, Aug. 29.—A nation wide railroad strike has undoubtedly been prevented by the recent decision of the railroad labor board it was said here today by W. Jett Lauck, consulting economist and former secretary of the war labor board.

In certain respects the decisions of the board have been disappointing both to the railroad employees and the railroad managers. Lauck said, but so far as the public is concerned, there can be no doubt that the work of the board has been the greatest constructive and stabilizing force in the industrial affairs since the termination of the war.

"The unfortunate and deplorable situation from the point of view of the public," Lauck declared, "has been that the labor policy of the railroads has been dominated by a group of financiers and railway executives whose main object has been not to serve the public intelligently by bringing about real railway efficiency and economies, but to secure savings in operating costs by destroying just and reasonable standards of work and competition."

"The depressed condition of the transportation industry with the resultant lack of employment has been favorable to their plans, as it has weakened the economic power of the employees. The labor board, has thwarted the indefensible efforts of this group by maintaining the right of collective bargaining on a labor union basis, the eight hour day and similar fundamental rights. It has also prevented an unwarranted reduction in wages. It has been courageous, forwardlooking and constructive from the standpoint both of the public and the transportation industry."

"The great need of the country after the armistice, Lauck said, was a series of principles or a code to govern industrial relations and conditions so that the continuity of production might not be broken by strikes, and that maximum production might be attained at the lowest cost to the consumer."

The first industrial conference which was called by President Wilson with this object in view, he continued, turned out to be a tragic failure. The steel strike, which might have been settled, cost the country hundreds of millions of dollars and the coal strike followed with equally disastrous results.

The second industrial conference, called by the president, the so-called Hoover conference, was equally futile, the economist declared. It prepared an extended report and recommended the establishment of elaborate machinery for the adjustment of labor disputes but failed in its primary duty by failing to urge certain fundamental principles as mandatory upon the adjustment of disputes.

"The transportation act, however," Lauck continued, "not only provided a board for the settlement of railroad labor controversies but also laid down as the constitution of this board a code of seven principles which should be mandatory upon the railroad labor board in making its decision."

The significant praise-worthy features of the board's work has been that it has gone beyond these seven standards and has laid down sixteen additional principles as mandatory upon its own action and upon collective bargaining between railway employees and management.

THUGS BREAK INTO BANK VAULT AND ESCAPE OFFICERS

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Entering the vaults of a safety deposit company in the Masonic Temple in which more than $1,000,000 in currency was said to be stored three robbers, who became intoxicated, made so much noise that they attracted the attention of a passerby and then escaped through a hall of bullets from the pistols of 25 patrolmen and detectives last night.

Behind them they left two handcuffed watchmen, a half emptied bottle of whiskey and a large hammer used to open fifteen safety deposit boxes. Hundreds of pedestrians witnessed the chase through the downtown districts which ended when the robbers vanished down an alleyway. Apparently none of them was injured by the fusillade of bullets.

It was estimated that the robbers had escaped with approximately $100,000 in cash and securities but a check of the boxes will be necessary to determine the exact amount.

RAILROAD MAN KILLED.
Gallipolis, Ohio, August 27.—Nathan Wise, 30 years old, was killed and Lewis Entminger and Marion Wood injured seriously when a railroad motor car in which they were riding collided with an automobile near Hobson. All were railroad men.

BIG BLAZE ATTRIBUTED TO UNEMPLOYED

Twenty-one acres of lumber in the yards of Glickson & Son, Ltd., at Stratford, London, burned for more than six hours, baffling the attempts of the Fire Department to extinguish the blaze. Although

Scotland Yard claims that the unemployed had nothing to do in connection with the fire, members of the firm insist that it was set on fire by some of the disappointed 5,000 applicants for the twenty odd jobs open at the lumber yard. In response to an advertisement calling for twenty porters, at $8 per week, 5,000 applicants appeared. The fire was discovered shortly after the twenty men selected had gone to work.

Cornell Student Held As Slayer In Mystery Case

Young Chilean Says He Acted In Self Defense in Knocking Down Cecil Arthur in Grill Room of New Jersey Hotel Early Saturday.

Aubury Park, N. J., Aug. 29.—"Who struck the first blow" was the dominating question in the "masquerade murder" investigation by the New Jersey authorities today. Salvador La Borde, wealthy young Chilean Cornell student held without bail as the alleged slayer of Cecil Arthur, reiterated in his cell at the Freehold, N. J., jail that he acted in self defense when he struck the young society man in the grill room of one of the smartest New Jersey resort hotels early Saturday morning, causing Arthur to tumble backwards, his head crashing to the cement floor and sustaining a fatal fracture of the skull.

Mystery still veils the background of the encounter between the two men in the ball room during a merry masquerade dance, which preceded the knockout fight in the grill room. The accounts told to police by eyewitnesses agreed that the young Chilean, professing to recognize Mrs. Suthpen with whom Arthur was dancing, tried to "cut in." The question which puzzled the police was why La Borde persisted after Arthur had told him he had made a mistake about the "lady in the domino" and tried to whisk her away in the whirl of the dance.

Two friends of La Borde, with whom he occupied a summer cottage at Deal, N. J., and who were with him at the ball, backed up his story of self defense. They are Jose Mantune of New York and Manuel Fernandez of Havana, Cuba. Both are held in $500 bail as material witnesses, as is the head waiter of the grill room, Samuel Pannell who told the police that La Borde struck the first blow.

"Star witness" at the trial will be Mrs. Suthpen. Arthur was a week end guest of the Suthpens.

TWO PRISONERS IN SOLITARY; ESCAPE FROM PEN NIPPED

Overpowered Guard But Find Way Blocked at Outer Door.

Columbus, O., Aug. 29.—Solitary confinement and a diet of bread and water constitute the punishment being inflicted today upon two Cuyahoga county prisoners, who, with three other convicts, unsuccessfully tried to escape.

Authorities are trying to identify the trio who aided Orville Taylor, Bedford bank robber, and Fred Mussey, Cleveland robber, to gain their liberty after attacking and gagging Prison Guard Robinson.

Utilizing a key, made out of a tin spoon, the prisoners got out of their cells, hiding until Guard Robinson approached. Besides gagging him they covered his eyes with a tape before he was able to identify them.

They left Robinson lying on the floor of the old cell block, after removing his revolver and keys, and went to the big gate where they found it could not be opened except from the outside. Returning to their cells, the prisoners locked themselves in shortly before a number of guards, started on a search for Robinson.

When the guards found Robinson's revolver and keys in their possession, Taylor and Mussey confessed, but would not tell who their companions were. Robinson was not hurt.

FOUR KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

New York, August 29.—Four persons, three of them women, were killed Sunday, when a passenger train on the Central Railroad of New Jersey struck an automobile when near Somerville, N. J.

MEMORY TREES WILL BE PLANTED

Marion, O., August 29.—At a joint meeting of Kenton and Marion Kiwanis here Thursday, a movement will be launched to plant memory trees along the entire route of the Harding highway, extending from Mansfield through the president's birthplace in Morrow county to Marion, Kenton and Lima, F. E. Toynont, Harding county, chairman is the father of the movement, which, it was said today, by Major James Wilson McMurray, president of the Marion Kiwanis club, bids fair to be successfully carried out.

LOST DIRIGIBLE EQUIPPED WITH WRONG DEVICES

Safety Appliances Were Condemned By This Country.

Chicago, August 29.—The giant dirigible ZR-2 wrecked in England with a loss of 46 lives, was equipped with safety appliances which had been condemned by the United States army air service, according to Major R. W. Schroeder, former chief pilot of the service and holder of the world's altitude record. Major Schroeder declared that the type of parachute with which the ZR-2 was equipped had been condemned by this government after a British air officer using one had been killed in a demonstration at Dayton Ohio.

Airmen throughout the country according to Major Schroeder, are wondering why the United States men aboard the ZR-2 were not equipped with the free type parachute, better known as the life pack, which has been adopted by the army and air mail services. Schroeder believes most of the men would have been saved if they had worn this safety appliance.

Schroeder also declared it "surprising" that the weak parts of the ZR-2 were not tested by tests on the ground before the ship was permitted to fly.

SUPREME PENALTY PAID BY ALLEGED SLAYER ON MONDAY

Frank Motto Protests Innocence At Electric Chair.

Columbus, August 29.—Police-men guarded the entrance to the penitentiary while Frank Motto, silently praying, walked to the electric chair where he met death early this morning for murdering W. C. Sly and George K. Fanner, Cleveland manufacturers, last New Year's eve during a $4200 payroll robbery. Motto protested his innocence to the last.

Motto's body was sent to Cleveland without being embalmed. Authorities complied with his final request that the voltage of electricity used in causing his death be no greater than is customary. A special detachment of police-men was detailed to guard the prison entrances and all members of the day shift of guards were on duty until after the execution. In Warden Thomas' apartments and in the penitentiary offices, lights were turned low two hours before the execution and all officials were doubly armed. These unusual precautions were taken because of anticipation that friends of Motto might attempt to get him out of the big state prison.

ENGLISHMEN TO OPPOSE TARIFF BILL TO SENATE

Deputation of British Business Men Appears In U. S.

STEEL CLAUSE OBJECT

Erection of Tariff Wall Object of Attack By Foreign Delegates.

Washington, Aug. 29.—The appearance of a deputation of English business men before the senate finance committee Wednesday to oppose some of the steel schedules of the pending tariff bill, is expected by Senators today to further emphasize the international aspects of the proposed erection of American trade barriers. Senators closely associated with President Harding are of the opinion that the tariff question is one that may be moulded finally by the trend of the approaching Washington conference on disarmament and kindred subjects however unrelated, the tariff now may appear to be to the announced purposes of the conference.

These senators have known for some time that the administration intended that both the tariff bill and the foreign debt funding bill should not be enacted finally by congress until the outcome of the Washington conference could be determined.

The liquidation of the eleven billion dollar foreign indebtedness to the United States and the erection of a tariff wall against foreign products, are moot questions which are not unlikely to be projected into the melting pot of international questions once the conference gets under way, these senators believe. They are confident that congress will not be called upon to act finally on either until the result of the Washington gathering is foreseen.

The admission of an English deputation to a hearing of the senate finance committee on the tariff is described by the state department as "unofficial" and to have no connection with the British government. It is excepted that the British ambassador—Sir Auckland Geddes—personally arranged it.

M. T. McCREIGHT OF JAMESTOWN DIES

M. T. McCreight, 74, Jamestown dry-goods merchant and oldest business man in Jamestown in point of years, in business, died at his home there, Saturday afternoon at three o'clock.

He had been in failing health for two years, since the death of his wife, suffering from a complication of diseases but his death was immediately caused by an attack of heart trouble.

Mr. McCreight was born in Adams County and came to Jamestown from there 45 years ago. A year later he entered the dry goods business in Jamestown, conducting his establishment until the time of his death.

He was a member of the Methodist Church, of Jamestown, and of the Jamestown Lodge of Masons, serving as treasurer of the lodge over a period of 39 years until his death. His wife died two years ago and he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Alma Laird, of Columbus, Mrs. Warren Robinson, and Mrs. Levi Jenks of Jamestown. Three sisters, Mrs. Simon Smiley and Mrs. N. McCullough of Youngville, Ohio, and Mrs. James Gowdy of Santa Anna, California, also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the late home Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, in charge of the Rev. W. A. Cooper, pastor of the Jamestown M. E. Church. The Masons will then take charge of the services and conduct the lodge ritual. Burial will be made in the Jamestown Cemetery.

TRACY WILL HELP PUBLIC OFFICIALS

Columbus, Aug. 29.—Plain facts and not personal criticism is what State Auditor Tracy wants out of his examiners, he has told the bureau of inspection of public officials. "Personal criticism of public officials will not be tolerated except in cases involving criminal action and determination by local courts," he said.

Also, he hopes to reduce instead of increase the number and amount of findings against public officials by affording them a better system of information. To this end the state is being divided into 15 districts, with a resident examiner in charge of each to whom new officials may apply for assistance in keeping forms and accounts in accordance with the law and the rules of the department.

Findings returned by the bureau of accounting the first six months of this year aggregated $426,572, of which $184,804 was paid voluntarily in the treasuries of local subdivisions. Uncollected findings are turned over to the attorney general. The latter official collected $41,870 in findings the first six months of 1921.

POLITICAL STRIFE NOW THREATENING GERMANY

SOLE SURVIVOR
OF U. S. AIRMEN
IN ZR-2 DISASTER

Only a few days ago Elmer Walker, of the Naval Station at Norfolk received a letter from his brother, Norman O. Walker, which stated that he expected to sail "at any minute" on the ZR-2. Also a few days ago Miss Beatrice Lunn of New York City, Walker's sister-in-law, was rejoiced to hear officially that Norman had escaped unscathed from the disaster of the ill-fated dirigible—the only American to escape.

UNEMPLOYMENT CONFERENCE TO BE SUMMONED

Administration Will Take Steps to Prevent Winter of Suffering.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Steps by the administration to prevent a winter of suffering, due to unemployment, were going forward today. Secretary of Commerce Hoover was completing plans for a national unemployment conference which will be called by the president within the next few weeks.

The president, it is also understood, has directed other cabinet members to consider the question of unemployment in order that the whole question and method of remedying it may be worked out in the cabinet next week.

It is the plan of Secretary Hoover to have the unemployment conference in session during the early part of September so representatives of large industry, labor and the government may co-operate in an effort to produce the maximum employment. A survey of the employment situation will be made by the conference and it is expected some measures of redistribution of labor will be worked out.

The president's future course with regard to idleness will hinge largely on the outcome of the conference. If the forthcoming conference makes recommendations for legislative action, it is expected that the president will go before congress during the latter part of September and ask relief.

GREEKS DEFEATED

London, Aug. 29.—Another crushing defeat has been inflicted on the Greek army in Asia Minor, according to a Constantinople dispatch today. Mustafa Kemal's Turkish nationalist forces have captured Yenichehir and the entire left wing of King Constantine's army is threatened with disaster.

Arthur Griffiths To Take Devalera's Place At Meet

"Shakeup" in High Councils of Sinn Fein Apparent As Announcement of Change is Made—Griffiths More Radical.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Premier Lloyd George departed today for Edinburgh and Perth without waiting for the Sinn Fein reply to his note of last Friday and without conferring with Sir James Craig, head of the unionist government of Ulster, who came here to consult the cabinet on the Irish peace situation.

Upon his arrival at Edinburgh the premier consulted with Sir Hamer Greenwood, chief secretary of Ireland, who is in that city.

London, August 29.—An unfounded report was circulated here today that Arthur Griffiths is to replace Eamonn DeValera as head of

CABINET CRISIS LOOMS NEAR AS RIOTING COMES

Bitter Feeling Arises As News of Sunday's Disorders Occur.

TWO ARE KILLED

Trouble at Potsdam Results In Bloodshed at City.

Berlin, August 29.—The flames of political strife unloosed by the murder of Dr. Matthias Erzberger, leaped high today when the full news of yesterday's demonstration, here and in other towns was told and when Chancellor Wirth summoned his cabinet to an extraordinary session to discuss the internal crisis.

Two working men were killed and a third was mortally wounded in a clash between "reds" and monarchists yesterday afternoon at Potsdam.

That old Kaisertown bristled with uniforms of men and officers of the old army, including some generals, who defied the government's order forbidding a demonstration in celebration of the battle of Tannenberg. At the same time Potsdam swarmed with radicals who had heeded the summons of the Reichstag, to make a counter demonstration.

Police fired into throng of workmen when the latter resisted an attempt to throw their flags into the canal.

The inter-party strife and bitterness continues to grow hourly in intensity and menace of a cabinet crisis loomed large today. Moderate elements of all parties were biding their energies to prevent it, realizing that nothing could be more disastrous to Germany at this moment when the war-crippled industries are just beginning to regain their bearing and when the league of nations council is about to make a final decision of Upper Silesia.

Meanwhile the investigation into Erzberger's assassination continues. The town of Offenburg, Baden, where the centrist leader and former finance minister was slain while walking on a high road in the Black Forest, was thick with police, with and without uniforms. The best brains of the German secret police have been dispatched to the Baden City to track down the murderers. Thus far the elaborate inquiry has been fruitless. The two students who were arrested Saturday on suspicion were released.

The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of "political murder."

It was found at the inquest that the shots that killed the centrist leader were fired from two different revolvers.

The latest clue which the police were investigating today was that an unknown voice telephoned to the newspaper Badische Presse at noon of the day of the murder—last Friday—asking if there was any information about Erzberger, whose assassination had not yet been discovered at that time.

The newspaper war over the murder raged with fury. Gloomy predictions were made on all sides Vorwaerts said:

"Only brutal ruthlessness now can save Germany from a bloody civil war."

The Catholic organ, Germania, again demanded the suppression of all nationalistic holidays, which the militarists are using for purposes of agitation. The paper charges. The royalist Kreuz Zeitung counters this with: "The nationalistic youths know how to protect their rights with a strong will."

O. E. BRADFUTE IS SPEAKER AT MEET OF FARM LEADERS

O. E. Bradfute, of this city, vice president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and president of the Ohio State organization was a speaker during the three-day session of Farm Bureau leaders held in Springfield, Mass., last week.

The meeting was held to exchange constructive ideas on farm problems, and James R. Howard, of Clemons, Ia., president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, was present and was a speaker at the banquet held at a Springfield Hotel and attended by between 250 and 300 Farm Bureau men Tuesday evening.

Mr. Bradfute acted as chairman of the executive session of the officers and executive committee in the temporary absence of Mr. Howard, on one morning of the three-day meeting. He spoke at the afternoon session and the following is from the Springfield (Mass.) Union "Vice-president Bradfute followed with a brief address in which he outlined the attitude of the national organization, and in which he painted a rosy future for the organization and all of its state branches. The organization already is making itself felt as a constructive factor, and in many States has influenced much helpful legislation, the effect of which will bring many needed benefits."

Of the address of President Howard, the Union says: "That this country will be brought to a single tax basis if the excess profits tax and similar taxes are abolished, that Europe is purposely keeping its exchange rates low and her financiers have outwitted ours, and that the failure of the United States to enter the League of Nations is a hard blow to the farmers were declarations made by James R. Howard, of Clemons, Ia., president of the American Farm Bureau Federation at a dinner in the Hotel Kimball last night."

"He concluded his address, a masterful expose of farm conditions in the country, with a statement that if agriculture fails to develop as rapidly as industry the United States will be forced to depend upon other countries, which will necessitate this country having the largest navy in the world."

"It is a better policy," he exclaimed, "to spend $50,000,000 on agriculture than on a battleship which can be sunk in 30 minutes."

TODDLE TOP CRAZE EXPERT DISCOVERS

New York.—This is the day of efficiency and the toddler top. This being affirmative, the burden of proof rests with the next paragraph.

A most modern efficiency expert, with a long training in scenting errors behind him and a long nose for smelling mistakes, was engaged a few days ago by one of the largest banking concerns in Manhattan.

The expert sensed there must be something wrong with the institution if it hired him. He proposed to find it. He spent hours on the company's books and inspecting the amount of waste paper in the litter baskets in pursuit of the uneconomical employee. He associated with the personnel of the bank, and then he discovered something.

Exactly seventeen minutes are wasted every day by one-half the employees of the concern, the expert found, in the pursuit of pleasure, the lust for gambling with the toddler top. The toddler top, as you know, is a young prism on a spindle, each of the octagon's sides bearing such inscriptions as "Put one," "Take two," "Put all," "Take all," etc. The idea is that you "put in" one cent, one dollar, or one whatever you're playing for, (or take out the corresponding medium of exchange).

The toddler top, as you know, is unlawful. There's a band against it. You do, too, know it.

Anyway, the efficiency expert wrote out his report. It was submitted to the board of directors of the banking concern. An executive session was called to consider the toddler top. The session continued for more than an hour. The efficiency expert tired of waiting. At the end of another half-hour the expert opened the door to the executive chamber to inquire when the session would be over.

On the floor of the chamber knelt and sat the twelve directors. One of them was in the act of spinning the toddler top. It spun and stopped.

The Markets

Stocks

How far the August stock market with its declining trend indicates the future tendency in business is a question. In years past August sometimes has and sometimes has not foretold development of the ensuing months. A mistaken impression might not possibly arise from a close study of the August market this year regardless of conditions and events outside. Absorption of stocks and bonds for "the long pull" is undoubtedly in progress. Wealthy men whose incomes have dwindled are still selling securities in order to meet their obligations, but this item of liquidation will subside. The "floating" supply of stocks is said to be light and borrowings of brokerage houses are exceptionally small. The public will soon recognize that many stocks are selling cheap. To raise the market decisively evidence of at least a moderate trade revival is needed. This evidence may shortly be forthcoming.

Grain

Primary arrivals of wheat this season nearly double those of last year when the crop was larger, accounting for the weakness in grain. Farmers have reason to place confidence in ultimate values and in future export trade. Millers are sure to keep a tight rein on the better grades of spring wheat because of the short crop. Coarse grains are considered their lowest, but corn and perhaps oats may go lower before the turn comes. Oats are buoyed by the crop outlook, but depressed by the heavy carryover and the farmers' disposition to cash in on old stocks. The nation will harvest a large corn crop and striking advances in this grain seem beyond the range of probability.

Livestock

Choice cornfed cattle are scarce and show further appreciation, while other grades have been inclined to drop. Southwestern grassers have moved freely. Western cattle growers naturally take the shortest route to market on account of high freight rates. Considerable liquidation is expected from the Northwest, although the movement will not attain large volume until another two or three weeks have passed. In all likelihood, hogs became topheavy and liberal receipts congested the market, forcing successive declines. The advance in hog values has apparently run its course, although light runs have their usual ability to stiffen prices somewhat. An excess cause of indigestion. Stocks of pork products are diminishing and export trade is holding up. Killers have been competing with feeders for western lambs. Cattle feeders show increasing interest in this branch of the trade as the corn crop nears maturity.

Cotton

News of further damage to the crop and further reductions in unofficial estimates of yield and conditions account for recent strength in cotton. Growers feel much encouraged at the attitude of the War Finance corporation and Federal Reserve Board and will seek to avoid dumping their product upon the market. No small part of the carry-over is of inferior grade and part is unsplinnable. A decided upward trend in business would start the market climbing.

Wool

The wool market is reported in a healthy state with a favorable outlook. American buyers have been after the best wools offered at the Australian auctions, and best wool are most in demand in this country with really low grade wool moving slowly. The government will hold another auction of low grade wools on September 9. The woolen textile industry continues to send out encouraging reports and has made a more spectacular advance since the first of the year than almost any other industry. Demand for wool in general is broadening. Wool stocks in this country on June 30 were put at about 600,000-000 or a year's average consumption.

Metals

Pig iron has improved in general tone and a steady demand is anticipated henceforth. Steel operations and sales expand slowly. The last wage reduction instituted by the Steel corporation marks the further progress of readjustment in this important industry, which bears vitally upon many other industries.

Agriculture

The recent weakness in grains has been a keen disappointment to the farmers, who know that the statistical position of wheat justifies an ascending rather than a descending scale of values. The slump has been due to forced liquidation, which has weighted down the speculative element with an excess of grain. Liquidation of grains and other drops at prevailing prices is taken by some competent observers as having so reduced the farmer's purchasing power as to delay any substantial trade revival until far along in 1922, but events of the coming fall may disprove this conclusion.

Next year will almost certainly find the farmer in a better position to hold his crops and avoid flooding the market. Fundamentally the law of supply and demand rules even in the speculative farm markets. Liberal credit accommodation is desirable to tide over the present emergency.

The Townsend bill, providing for heavy government expenditures on a comparatively few trunk line highways was destined from the first to encounter opposition. Farmers seldom use the roads beyond a radius of 20 miles from their homes. They use the interlacing roads connecting the farm homes within a county and leading to the nearest town extensively, and would prefer to see government funds expended for improvement of many local farm-to-market roads. One advantage of the trunk line is that it makes city markets available throughout a wider area. A farmer may drive 40 and 50 miles to market over a hard-surfaced highway in a truck or car, whereas he would have deemed 20 miles of dirt road impassable.

The government has published some interesting figures showing farm values in 1920 as compared with 1910. The value of all farm lands and buildings nearly doubled in the decade, reaching $65,000,000 of which nearly $55,000,000, represented land alone. Unfortunately land filled by tenants showed a materially greater increase than land filled by owners. Farm tenantry is a problem of large dimensions. Its solution is linked up with the greater problem of putting agriculture on a thorough business basis with a reward uniformly commensurate with the time and money expended.

Recent testimony before the Interstate Commerce Commission should prove indisputably were there need for further proof, that freight rates bearing on farm products are unjust and erroneous. The higher freight rates of late years have affected bulky commodities more than goods capable of shipment compactly. The percentage of total value consumed by freight rates has increased much more rapidly with grains, hay and so on than with such manufactured

SUNDAY'S FIGHTING IN WEST VIRGINIA OF LOCAL NATURE

Flareup Had No Connection With March of Miners

Logan, West Va., August 29.—Logan county's battle front was quiet this morning following a flareup of fighting at Peach Creek, near Camp Four, early Sunday morning in which five miners are reported to have been killed in a clash with state police, according to information from State Police headquarters at Ethel, five miles from here.

State police today took the view that the Sunday fighting was purely local in character and that it had nothing to do with the march of 5,000 strikers from Marmet toward Mingo county.

Charleston, W. Va., August 29.—Runners have been sent out in the Cabin Creek coal district assuring that the miners who returned to their homes Saturday from Logan and Boone counties, to reassemble at Marmet immediately according to a statement made by a coal operator this morning. Thus far the report lacks confirmation from other sources.

A report, thus far unconfirmed, says that a woman was shot this morning near Ethel in a new outbreak there.

BOY RUNS AWAY FROM HOME BUT IS FOUND LATER

Running away from the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, in the wee small hours of Saturday morning, Elbert DeHart, aged eight, pupil at the institution, got as far as Cincinnati before he was halted in his flight.

The little fellow, wearing a ragged army uniform many sizes too large for him and barefooted, arrived in Cincinnati, Saturday, on a Pennsylvania train in search of his father, whom he says lived in Norwood.

The child was found by Miss Nan Tracy, of the Travelers' Aid, wandering about the railroad station, and is being held for authorities from the Home. According to Mrs. Sylvester Garver, chief matron at the institution, the boy's absence was discovered Saturday morning, and a search started for him.

Officials from the Home were sent to Cincinnati to return the boy to the institution. In the meantime Norwood police are searching for his father in that city. According to Mrs. Garver the children are often restless at returning to the Home from their vacations, and the little fellow was evidently filled with the roaming habit when he slipped away under cover of darkness Saturday morning.

SMALL BLAZE AND FALSE ALARM CALL OUT FIRE FIGHTERS

For the second time since the opening of the Post Hall in the Trebein building, Second and Detroit streets, fire broke out in the shower-bath room of Joseph P. Foody, American Legion quarters, Sunday evening at seven o'clock.

As the previous fire, the Sunday blaze started from an over-heated gas wall heater in the shower bath room, and burned out part of the wooden partition. Firemen extinguished the blaze with the use of chemicals, and the loss, which will not be great, is covered by insurance.

Formaldehyde fumigators burning in the office of Dr. G. W. Kuhn, second floor Kingsbury building on South Detroit street, caused the fire department to be called out at 9:30 o'clock Saturday night. The fumigators burning in the darkened office cast a glow against the window, which pedestrians believed to be a fire. Firemen crashed the glass in the door leading from the corridor before the cause of the glow was discovered. The loss will amount to the broken glass only.

NEED PHILOSOPHY IN LIFE DECLARES OHIO EDUCATOR

"I don't see how anyone can get through life without a philosophy. Most people fail because they are dishonest and they are dishonest because they lack courage," declared Dr. R. G. Jones, Superintendent of City School, Cleveland, Ohio, in his address at the closing session of the County-City Teachers' Institute Friday. Dr. Jones' talk was based on some of the ways used in choosing and selecting teachers.

After a short intermission the teachers listened to a duet by the St. John brothers of Xenia. Dr. Grube, County Health Commissioner, talked to the teachers on some phases of work which pertained to the schools.

In G. M. Boyd's talk on "Thrift" he said: "Thrift isn't so much saving money as the art of placing money. Every man, woman and child should set as his ideal to put away so much money regularly. It is also very important where you place your money."

The report of the Auditing committee was then presented and adopted.

Letitia Dillencourt read the report of the Committee on Resolutions, which was adopted.

Following these reports the annual election of officers was held. P. P. Sayers being elected president and Miss Mary Gretsinger secretary.

At the afternoon session Dr. McChesney, president of Cedarville College, gave a short address, explaining the campaign of Cedarville College to raise $200,000 and why it is necessary for them to raise this money.

This was followed by the departmental meetings in charge of the different superintendents.

JOBE BROTHERS

ALL THREE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS ARE RE-APPOINTED

The county board of education has re-employed all of the county district superintendents, C. A. Devoe, D. H. Barnes and D. G. Lynn as assistant superintendents according to the provisions of the new Kumer law.

When the Kumer law changed the district superintendents to assistant county superintendents, and provided for attendance officers also, it was the plan of the board to carry on the work with only two assistant superintendents instead of three.

When D. H. Barnes propagated a vote in Xenia township for a $25,000 bond issue to start a separate Xenia township high school, which was defeated it was said to be practically a concession on the part of the district superintendent that he would not be re-appointed to his district, which includes Xenia, Sugar Creek and Spring Valley Townships. Efforts were also made to make him township superintendent, aside from the provisions of the school law, but these propositions also fell through. Just when it was conceded that the county board, in naming its assistant superintendents under the Kumer law would not reappoint Mr. Barnes, the board met, and deciding that it would be impossible with the increase work of school attendance work provided by the Kumer law to get along with two assistants, re-appointed Superintendent Barnes to the same district he has held in the past.

The work of the three assistant superintendents, with some added duties, will remain practically the same as it has been. The salary will also remain the same as under the old law. The board at the same time as making the appointments, made each assistant superintendent an attendance officer without additional salary or expense and by so doing will save quite a sum of money to the county, since the same work in some other counties will be done at a cost of $3,000 to $4,000. Under this plan, the most troublesome cases of truancy will be handled by the Probation officers in the capacity of county attendance officers.

The re-appointment of all three district superintendents as assistant county superintendents, is expected to prove a popular move in their respective districts, where all have been working for some time.

PARKING SPACE TO BE GIVEN AUTOISTS

The Greene County Automobile Club is definitely announcing the fact that it has arranged parking space for automobiles during the fall festival this week, in the Dodds addition, Detroit and Church streets.

Because of the fact that police forbid parking of machines in the booth district, the parking site for machines provided by the Club will give car owners an opportunity to leave their machines in a place as near as possible to the center of the city.

Two men have been retained by the Club to act as guards over the machines and tickets will be given out to each owner using the space. A small fee will be charged to take care of the expense of employing watchmen for the machines. Car owners are warned to be sure and get their tickets when they leave their cars in the parking district.

FALL FESTIVAL ASSUMES DEFINITE SHAPE AS BOOTHS GO UP MONDAY FOR FIRST OPENING TUESDAY AFTERNOON IN XENIA

Xenia is getting all dressed up in spangles for its newest and biggest fall festival.

The gaze of Xenians on their arrival in the up-town district, Monday, alighted on long lines of white painted booth frames, strings of incandescent wiring and gay red and white awning for the booths.

Heavy wagons of the circus variety, loaded with festival equipment, gave the city a circus day appearance in the early morning, which was carried out in the bright booths and the superstructure of the riding machines.

So quickly did the workmen throw up the booths, that merchants were able to start their decorations, Monday. Plenty of time will be afforded for even the most tardy to have all of his space in shape for the opening, Tuesday evening, when the booths will be flung open for the first time.

Although the formal opening will be held here at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, special arrangements have made it possible for the actual opening to be held at 3:30 o'clock, Tuesday. That is the hour that the mammoth merchants' and industrial parade will get under way when it is anticipated there will be a parade of more than two miles in length.

The parade was changed from the evening hour until the afternoon to accommodate the merchants and manufacturers who believed that it would be to more advantage at that time. City and county officials will head the column, followed by merchants and manufacturers, their employees, the police and fire departments, decorated trucks, delivery cars, automobiles and wagons. From promises of several business men, it is expected that the vehicles in parade for some, will be two or three squares in length.

Because of the length of the parade, which makes it impossible to double frequently, all of the parades will form on East Second street, according to present arrangements, with the different sections forming on the cross streets in order to fall in. The parade will move west on Second street to West street, turn north on West street to Main street, east on Main street to Collier, north on Collier to Market, east on Market to Monroe, south on Monroe to Main street, and west on Main to Detroit, passing the judges' reviewing stand in front of the Court House twice.

Starting at 6:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening, the Festival Band will play a concert at the reviewing stand in front of the Court House and at 7:30 o'clock the festival will be officially opened with formal addresses by J. T. Charters, president of the city commission, Frank W. Dodds, president of the Chamber of Commerce and J. W. Prugh, director of the Chamber of Commerce. The talks will be brief and will consist principally of a welcome to the crowds that are on hand.

The speeches will be concluded with a display of red fire throughout the festival district and at eight o'clock all of the display booths will be opened, the automobile show will be thrown open to the public and dancing will begin in the electric coliseum. The first free attraction will be staged at ten o'clock, Tuesday evening, on platform No. 1. At 10:30 o'clock a free attraction will be staged on Platform No. 2, and at 11 o'clock Jumbo Jr., will walk the high wire. Arrangements are now being made to stretch this tight wire three stories high from the Sutton building, East Main street to the Citizens exchange building. From eight o'clock until 10:30 o'clock, each evening, there will be free band concerts in the automobile show.

Thus will the new festival be thrown open to the people, Tuesday. Although merchants have not taken the booth space they should in order to get the best advantages from the festival, this will not detract from the fun that will be omnipresent during the week, but will only affect the benefits to be derived from the merchants themselves. The crowd will be here, say officials of the Festival Production Company of Chillicothe, and hilarity and gaiety is expected to reign supreme during the week.

Success of the festival in other places is assurance that the affair will be popular here, and it is the belief of merchants that should the festival be repeated next year, the company will have little trouble in disposing of both space. As it is now, all of the principal business houses have taken space, and with the work expected Monday and Tuesday, it is anticipated that surprises in the way of merchants' displays will result when the booths are thrown open, Tuesday evening.

ARREST FOLLOWS ATTEMPT TO SELL TIRES TOO CHEAP

Lester Matson, 21, was arrested by Sheriff Funderburg, Saturday night in connection with the theft of a number of tires and tubes from the Xenia Farmers' Exchange Company, 434 W. Main street.

Batson's arrest followed information received that he had been selling tubes at a very low price and that he had offered tires for sale much lower than the usual cost. He confessed following his arrest, Saturday night, and it was found that he had sold two tubes to Lewis Chance, two to Ed Green and two to Ned McCormick, for $1.50 apiece.

He is said to have offered the tires for sale at $8 apiece. Until Batson's arrest, officials of the Farmers' Exchange Company did not know they had been robbed, but an inventory showed eight inner tubes and 5 tires were missing. No charge has been filed against Batson, and authorities are considering letting him make good the amount of the stolen property, without prosecution.

URGES THAT CITY DRESS UP FOR TIME

"Decorate your buildings and places of business during the festival this week."

This is the order emanating from headquarters of the festival committee and officials of the Festival production Company.

Merchants and others in the downtown district are urged to fly their flags from their buildings to aid in giving the city as gay an appearance as possible during the week.

Some merchants have already complied with the request and with the Court House decorated with flags and bunting, the city is taking on a true festival appearance.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ILL-FATED DIRIGIBLE.

The ill-fated ZR-2 was the largest dirigible ever built, with a capacity far greater than that of the Zeppelin L-71, built by Germany to bomb New York and Washington. She was larger than the British dirigible R-34, which in July, 1919, crossed the Atlantic from East Fortune, Scotland, to Hazelhurst Field, N. Y., in 108 hours and 12 minutes. It had been confidently expected that the ZR-2 would have beaten that record, if she had made a successful crossing.

The design of the ZR-2 was decided upon by the British Admiralty in the spring of 1918. Construction was begun at Short Brothers works at Cardington, in November, 1918. In April, 1920, the works at Cardington were taken over by the air ministry, and the greater part of the construction of the ZR-2 was carried out since that date. The purchase price to the United States Navy was to be $2,000,000.

Seen in flight the ZR-2 closely resembled her sister ship, the R-34, with a bewildering confusion of aluminum girders, rows of gasoline and water tanks, acres of gas bags and a miscellany of guy wires, control valves, pipes, swivels and hinges.

The aircraft was operated by six engines. It was estimated to have a cruising radius of sixty miles an hour, giving a capacity to make an aggregate of 6000 miles of uninterrupted flight. It had a capacity for officers and crew of forty-two men. The gasoline supply was 10,900 gallons. It was estimated that it would cross the Atlantic in seventy-two hours.

SHOULD WE, OR SHOULD WE NOT, FINISH THE DIRIGIBLE WE HAVE STARTED?

In the absence of detailed information on the explosion which wrecked the dirigible ZR-2 at Hull, England, Navy Department officials including Secretary Denby and Admiral Moffett, Chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, declined to speculate on the cause of the accident. Both officers indicated, however, that the spectacular destruction of the big airship, had not shaken their faith in the type as an important and necessary arm of naval warfare.

The disaster it was stated authoritatively, will not cause abandonment of the ZR-1, sister ship of the ZR-2, now partially completed at the naval hangar at Lakehurst, N. J. Construction of ZR-1 will continue Admiral Moffett said, with the hope of completion in July of next year. It is possible that Congress will be asked to appropriate $1,000,000 needed to finish the job, an item which was struck from General Navy Appropriation Bill. Funds for naval aircraft development are in hand, however, to continue the construction of the ZR-1.

The confidence the navy imposes in the practicability of the giant rigid type of airship apparently is due to the progress which has been made in this country in the development of helium, a non-inflammable gas which is as efficient as hydrogen in lifting power. Helium thus far has been found only in the United States. The highly inflammable character of hydrogen, coupled with the fact that the British were forced to use this element to lift their dirigibles, is one of the reasons ascribed for the recent decision of the British Air Ministry to build no more aircraft of the rigid type.

THREE PREVIOUS SUCCESSFUL ATTEMPTS TO CROSS "THE B. POND" THROUGH THE AIR.

Three successful air flights over the wide expanse of the Atlantic were achieved; one in a hydroplane, another in a biplane and, finally, the third in the R-34. The hydroplane, known as the NC-4, one of four United States naval machines, in charge of Lieutenant Commander Albert C. Reed, left Trepassey, N. F., May 16, 1919, and reached Horta, in the Azores, in fifteen hours and eighteen minutes, having traversed the 1200 miles at an average speed of 78.4 knots. Later it flew to Portugal.

Prior to the three successful flights alluded to previous attempts had been made to negotiate "the big pond" through the air. The earliest of these was made by Walter Wellman, American journalist and explorer, and Melvin Vaniman, on October 15, 1910, in a dirigible balloon called the "America." They started out from Atlantic City, N. J., with a crew of four men, including an Englishman, an Australian and two Americans. Their objective was any point on the coast of England, Ireland or France to which the wind might carry them.

After being three days and nights in the air, sailing 1010 miles and tossed about by adverse winds, the party was picked up by the steamship Trent, 375 miles east of Cape Hatteras, half way between New York and Bermuda. The dirigible was abandoned at sea.

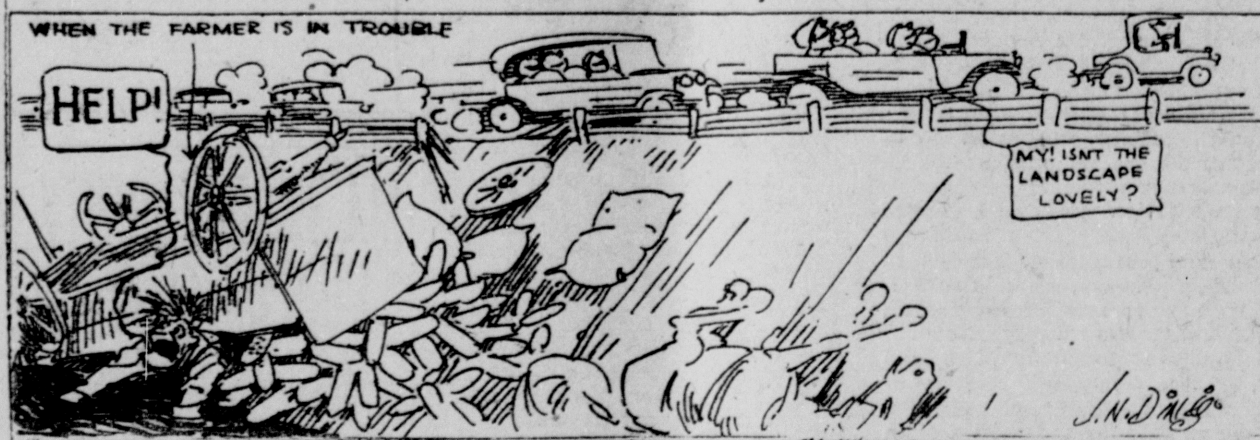

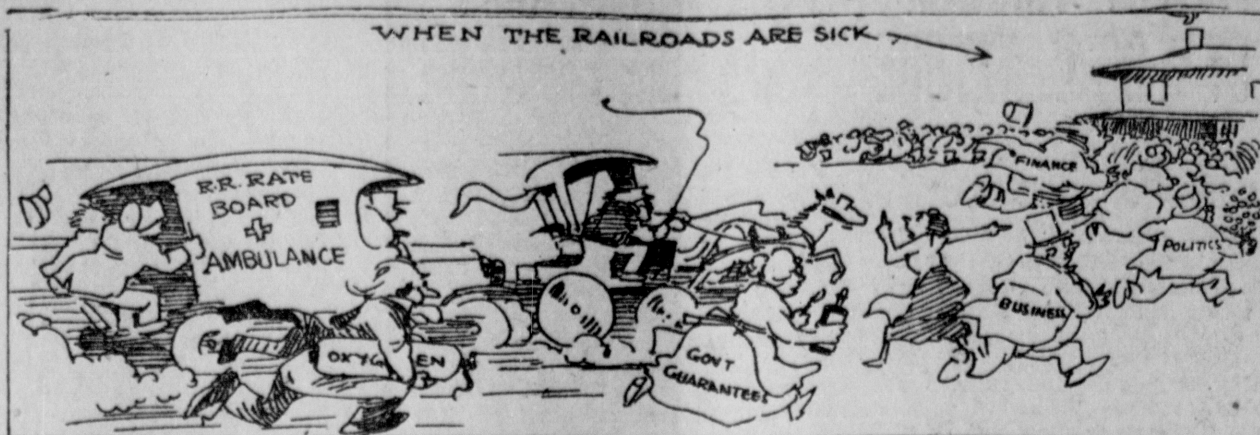

The British R-34, the first dirigible to cross the Atlantic, started from East Fortune, Scotland, July 1, 1919, and landed at Roosevelt Field, Mineola, L. I., on the morning of July 6, covering the 3200 miles in 108 hours and 12 minutes. She left New York on the return trip to Scotland July 9 and reached her home port a few days later. On January 29, 1921, the historic craft, which had cost more than $1,000,000 to build, was cut almost in two by a violent wind and left a wreck outside her airdrome near Edinburgh.

THE RENTED HOME.

The money you have paid for rent is gone beyond recall, though you have paid it for a tent, or for a stately hall; some landlord took it, cent by cent, and left your bundle small. Some landlord took your iron men and left you feeling sore, for you were needing every yen to buy things at the store; and every month he came again, and took away some more. You've bought that residence, alack, you poor misguided gent! You've bought the blamed place front and back, and by the strain you're bent; and still the landlord owns the shack, and bones you for the rent. Not yours the roof-tree overhead, not yours the cistern pump; the landlord owns the fence and shed, the whole works in a lump; when you can't pay him you must tread the pathway to the dump. When you are sick or out of luck the landlord stern appears, and glowers loudly for each buck for which you're in arrears, and hauls your dunnage in a truck to soulless auctioneers. A sane and prudent wight is he who in his own shack dwells, though it may stain and humble be, not built for blooming swells; we see him neath his vine and tree, and note he's wearing bells.

"BUT NONE FOR THE LITTLE BOY THAT LIVES IN THE LANE."

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Products from two recent enterprises inaugurated in Greene County are now on sale at the Xenia groceries and are meeting with ready sales. The Cedarville cheese factory cannot supply the demand for its products, and the Spring Valley creamery is making itself known throughout the county by turning out butter that cannot be surpassed.

The indications are that it will not be many weeks before Xenians will be treated to the sight of electric cars spinning over the Pan Handle between Springfield and Xenia. Earl Smith, son of Judge H. ### ALOPECIA AREATA

This trouble manifests itself by falling of the hair in spots or patches on the head, and also spots on the face, and there is a great deal of itching. In some cases localized headaches precede the hair fall for weeks or months. In many cases there is complete recovery in from six months to two years. The origin of the trouble may be nervousness, and it may be parasitic, or both. Therefore both constitutional and local remedies must be used. The hygienic life has got to be led; and such remedies as contain iron, arsenic, phosphorus, strychnine or quinine are "indicated." The whole head and face should be shampooed with tincture of green soap once a week. Before making any local application, remove the loose hairs surrounding the patches, with a pair of tweezers. Besides local applications of salve or zinc ointment, painting the patches (no oftener than once a month) with tincture of caps.

sum or pure carbonic acid are good measures. The galvanic current has in some cases been very effective, the positive pole being placed at the nape of the neck whilst the negative is applied to the patch by means of the metallic roller. Any electric supply store will furnish a small galvanic battery.

Imprisoned

Oh, I walked the world a-swagger and I boasted I was free,
There was never woman living that could hold or fetter me,
Though I kissed and I philandered, it was all in merry jest,
And the lover's hungry longing ne'er burned within my breast;
Then—your calm eyes looked upon me, I was slave to your command,
And my heart was 'n the hollow of your hand!

Now I walk the world an humbled, who was all so brave and bold,
I who boasted once of freedom, for I'm easy now to hold,
Bound within a web of glamor which I have no will to break,
I am subject of your fancy—yours to mar and yours to make;
(Oh, your eyes are like warm water sparkling over golden sand,
And my heart is 'n the hollow of your hand!)

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

WHY NOT NOW.

A lovely letter came to me the other day, thanking me for the help given through these talks. The writer said that it was their opinion that tributes should be paid to the living. I have been carrying that letter around in my pocket every since.

Why wait to say nice things to people anyway?

I hope to live to see the time when people will erect monuments to the living. Of course I know the general impression is that should these tributes be paid while yet the man lived he might later do something that would make people sorry they had paid such honor. Whereas with the one who has gone, the book is sealed.

But nevertheless, I believe in making this mortal frame of ours as happy as possible while it walks and breathes.

It was Helen Jackson. I believe, who said 'I like not only to be loved, but to be told I am loved—the realm of silence is large enough beyond the grave."

Why wait to express a generous thought or to do a helpful thing, when you know that you will receive infinitely greater pleasure than the one to whom you grant it—so great is the law of compensation.

Why wait to put into action that thing which you have spent so long a time in thinking out? If you believe in it—go through with it. Even the most depressing failure has its lesson of success.

I talked with a business man recently who seemed greatly depressed over business conditions. I asked him if he thought they were ever going to improve. And his prompt reply was: "Oh, yes! But not for a long time." My reply was that I could see no sense in putting off that good time—that the sooner every man started to be normal, the sooner everything would become normal.

Why wait for the other fellow..

THE CALF OF THE LEG.

Ever since short skirts have been in fashion one notices a peculiarity of appearance about many otherwise very pretty women. That is, the leg seems to begin at the ankle and goes straight up without a curve or a prettily rounded line for as great a distance as the skirt reveals it; which parenthetically in these days is no inconsiderable distance.

Many women who weigh about what they should and who live moderately active lives are badly developed in the calf of the leg and the ankle. There seems to be no particular reason for this unless it is that they have never taken sufficient exercises.

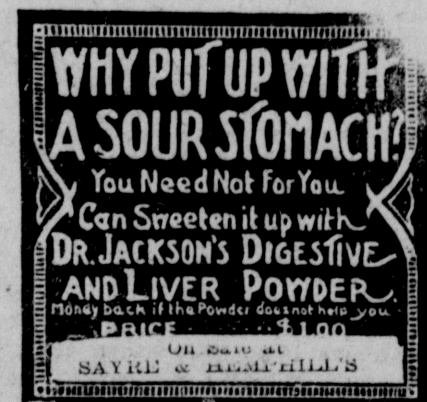

There are several exercises which will correct this condition. One is dancing, which is splendid for developing the calf of the leg particularly and the whole body as well. Another exercise is swimming, and still another tennis playing, and still another which any woman can practice, is as follows:

Stand as much on the toes as possible, either in your stocking feet or in a pair of heeled, soft-soled bedroom slippers that will allow the toes to spread. Raise yourself up on the toe, remain so for ten seconds, relax so the body rests on the entire foot once more. Repeat this 30 or more times and practice it twice a day as an exercise. At the same time train yourself to walk about the room while you are dressing as much on your toes as you can manage. Faithfully practiced this will develop the calf of the leg.

Ruby. —You will be able to do this by using the henna shampoo.

Worried. —If the hair splits, singeing will stop this and help it to grow. There is no particular time for doing this. There used to be a superstition that hair should be trimmed in the first quarter of the moon, possibly that is what you allude to. Exercise the arms, using all the strenuous motions that will tense the muscles, as in rowing. This should make them more shapely.

Mrs. A. L. R. —That is a matter of preference. Sage tea gives the grey hair a tan shade, henna gives it an autumn tint. I do not know if the druggist would make you the sage preparation, but the henna is procured in powder form and mixed with the shampoo. It is purchased at the toilet counters of the department stores, or at any drug store that carries a full line.

EXPECT 2 HUNDRED DOCTORS TO ATTEND MEETING SEPT. 7

Two hundred doctors are expected to attend the meeting to be held at the Knights of Pythias Hall in this city September 7, when the first of a series of meetings to be held under the auspices of the Ohio State Medical Association for post-graduate study on diagnosis and treatment of various ailments will be held.

This is the estimate placed on the number it is anticipated will attend, by Dr. W. A. Galloway, president of the Greene County Medical Society, members of which organization will act as hosts to the visiting physicians, and will complete all arrangements for the day's meeting.

The physicians expected to attend the meeting here will be from the group of counties or district in which Greene county is located and which consists of Greene, Clark, Madison, Clinton, Warren, Montgomery and Preble. Similar meetings will be held in twenty cities throughout the state next month in the hope of reaching every doctor within the state.

Dr. J. H. J. Upham, of Columbus, former president of the Ohio State Medical Association and now professor of medicine at the college of medicine of Ohio State University, and a staff consultant for several Columbus hospitals, will be the speaker at the local meeting and his address will start at three o'clock in the afternoon. A general discussion and schooling will follow Dr. Upham's address, and at 5:30 o'clock dinner will be served to the doctors and their guests. In the evening a short session of the meeting will be held before adjournment.

NEW BILL WOULD TAKE STING FROM IMMIGRANTS' LIFE

Washington. — The necessity for turning back hundreds of immigrants arriving at American ports, who have sold their homes in the lands of their birth and spent their last pennies for passage to the "land of opportunity" will be obviated by the passage of Representative Albert Johnson's bill now before Congress, Secretary of Labor Davis pointed out today. Many of the immigrants now arriving in the United States are afflicted with dangerous and loathsome contagious diseases, are feeble minded, mentally or physically defective or are in such circumstances that to admit them would be to fill our institutions with public charges.

The new measure provides for the weeding out of these in admissible aliens before they leave their home countries through selection by representatives of the United States Government residing at the ports of embarkation. Two special agents will be stationed at each of the principal ports—one a member of the Public Health service and the other an experienced immigrant inspector.

The selection of immigrants will operate through the use of the visa system, which requires the immigrant to procure from his government a passport, which must be presented to an American consular officer for visa before he can embark for the United States. This visa will be granted only after inspection by the immigrant and public health inspectors, as contemplated by the Johnson measure.

"Perhaps it will cost a little more than the present hit-or-miss method of visting passports by American consular officers," said Secretary Davis. "The present passport visa of $10, however ought to cover the cost of this service, and much as the revenue is needed by the Government it is hardly fair that this tax of $10 be imposed upon aliens in their own countries in addition to the head tax which they must pay upon admission to the country, without giving something in return. In the interest of humanity Congress ought not to quibble at the slightly larger appropriation necessary, if it is necessary, for a selected immigration will not require the same attention at the port of embarkation as the motley crowds now handled, for, knowing the heartaches now occasioned at our ports, the consciences of the American public would be easier."

It is the duty of immigration authorities to prevent the entry into the country for the purpose of protecting American citizens and residents, of the following classes of persons, when certified as such by officers of the Public Health Service: idiots, imbeciles, feeble-minded persons, epileptics, insane persons, persons of constitutional psychopathic inferiority, persons mentally defective, persons afflicted with tuberculosis, chronic alcoholism, contagious diseases, either loathsome or contagious.

Most of the diseases listed are probably little known to the average American but they are as bad and as dangerous as their names indicate. It is asserted that most of the contagious diseases and epidemics within the City of New York are directly traceable to Ellis Island. The great city, say immigration authorities, is that under the present method of handling immigration there is no assurance to the immigrant when he leaves his country, that he will be permitted to land, or if he is permitted that part of his family will not be deported back to the country from whence they started.

Many instances of a pathetic nature are appealed to the Secretary of Labor Daily. A few days ago a specific illustration, there was taken an appeal of the case of a child two years of age for whom a warrant for deportation had been issued returning him in the custody of his mother to Poland. He was afflicted with ringworm of the body, a parasite which starts on the head and eats out the roots of the hair in a circular fashion. The family was not in good financial condition and to treat the case to effect a cure might take a year, so cost a probably a thousand dollars. Some one must accompany me back to Poland, was the plea and the child could be treated more cheaply and in a case of this kind the mother would be designated as an accompanying alien.

This family had saved for years, looking forward to the time when they could come to the United States, they sold out all they had of material things which made up a home at a sacrifice and at a discouraging rate of exchange. They wanted to become citizens of this great country, but when they arrived it was found that the entrance of the child would imperil the health of perhaps thousands of little children to whom this loathsome disease might be communicated. The family thus separated must cease to be a happy family and to go back to the country from where they came meant misery and want.

Other cases come in which would be humorous if they did not carry with them so much disappointment for the immigrant.

Under the Act of February 23, 1917, illiterates, with a few exceptions are not permitted entrance in the United States. In some cases this law works peculiar hardship, as in the case of young women from the devastated sections of Europe. It is not infrequently that an illiterate young lady will arrive at Ellis Island after months of suffering. In some instances the girl is all that is left of a family which has fled, after the burning of their home and has nothing in the world to live for except for the opportunity which she may find in the United States. She has been driven about during the revolutions from country to country; has had to choose between becoming a member of a Turkish harem or probable death, has chosen the latter and later escaped. No inspector could resist the appeals of these immigrants.

TROY'S OLDEST MAN JOHN W. RILEY IS CALLED BY DEATH

John W. Riley, 83, Troy's oldest citizen, and uncle of Minor W. Monro of this city, died Friday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. E. Thompson, in Troy. Death followed an operation that was performed by physicians, Thursday, in a last effort to save his life. Mr. Riley had been engaged in his daily activities a few days before his death.

Mr. Riley was born in Troy, one of a family of five children, and the last surviving member of the family of Zarahiah and Juliet Neal Riley, pioneer residents of Troy. Practically all of his life was spent in that city. Before the Civil War he was engaged in business in Troy and at the close of the war, he returned to that city and resumed his business activities. Following his retirement from business about 15 years ago he devoted his time and energy to the G. A. R. and public causes.

Mr. Riley's sister was one of the founders of the O. S. and S. O. Home in this city, and since that time Mr. Riley manifested great interest in the institution. He was a frequent visitor to the home, and for several years was a member of the Christmas committee which disbursed the funds raised to provide Christmas gifts for the pupils of the home.

Mr. Riley was one of the leaders of the work of the G. A. R. He was honored with staff and committee appointments and attended departmental and national encampments. Funeral services were held at the late home in Troy, Sunday afternoon, in charge of Rev. Irvine J. Dugan, assisted by Dr. J. King Gibson of Dayton, chairman of the Dayton M. E. church home, and an intimate friend of Mr. Riley. Burial was made in the Riverside cemetery, by the side of his wife, who preceded her husband in death, about six months ago.

BREWS CONTINUE IN CHAMP RACE

The Home Brews continued in the race for the city baseball championship Sunday afternoon, when they defeated the A. B. Cs. at the Dickenson park diamond, by a score of 15-8.

The contest was a farce after the first inning, when the Brews kicked Anderson for six runs and kept adding to their total during the next three innings. After the fourth the colored aggregation settled down and the Brews did not score again.

Chambliss let down after his teammates had piled up a big lead for him, but he kept the A. B. Cs. from getting dangerous during the rest of the game. The game is the second the Brews have won in the city championship series, which puts them on a par with the American Legion team which has also won two and lost no games.

AMERICAN LEGION WINS TEN INNING GAME OF METEORS

The St. Brigids Meteors dropped their second game to the American Legion and suffered their third defeat in the city championship series, when the American Legion came from behind and snatched a ten-inning game from them at Reserve Park Sunday afternoon.

The Legion team tied the count at 4-all in the ninth stanza, and three hits garnered three runs and iced the frame. Until the ninth, the Meteors had been leading by a base on balls to Fuller, and a passed ball which permitted him to reach second, where he scored on Kitt's timely single, knotted the count.

The Legion scored first in the third stanza when J. Fuller clouted the pellet for the full circuit. In the sixth the Legion added two more runs, one of which was another homer by J. Fuller making two for the day for him. The Meteors scored first in the sixth when they added three runs, and in the seventh they added the fourth. Although Walsh struck out three of the Legion batsmen in the ninth they were able to score the tying run, and in the tenth three hits helped them sew the game no closer. The lineup: Meteors—Kahoe, 3b; Whittington, ss; F. Leahy, rf; Donovan, 2b; Hatfield, c; E. Leahy, cf; Hendrickson, 1b; T. Newell, 1f; Walsh, p. Legion—J. Fuller, 2b; Moon, 1f; Stiles, 2b; Milburn, ss; E. Randall, 1b; Fuller, cf; Kitt, rf; F. Randall, c; Shane E. Randall, p.

WONDERFUL GAIN IN WEIGHT MADE

Young Woman Only
Weighed 76 Pounds—
Now Weighs Over 100
And is Gaining Every Day.

"Before I began taking Tanlac I only weighed 76 pounds, I now weigh over one hundred and am gaining every day," said Miss LaRue Davis, of Chattanooga, Tennessee.

"I bought my first bottle of Tanlac at Gas City, Ind., and it helped me so much that I continued using it. I have always been very delicate and suffered a great deal from stomach trouble and rheumatism. I rarely had any appetite and simply could not relish anything. I fell off until I only weighed 76 pounds and was so thin I looked perfectly awful. This is the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac.

"Oh, I feel so different now. Even my complexion is improved. My appetite is good and I can hardly get enough to eat. Tanlac is simply grand and I can truthfully say that it is the only medicine that has ever done me any good."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill and by leading druggists everywhere.

TIRES NOT HANDLED CAREFULLY ENOUGH

"Too few of us stop to realize what a tough life our tires and tubes have to live," said Mr. J. A. Simson, local Dayton tire dealer.

"Careless handling and improper attention will knock hundreds and even thousands of miles out of the best tires. The average American driver likes best to put on his tires and forget about them as far as possible. For this reason it is hard for him to get more than four or five thousand miles from his tires unless he is extremely careful in selecting them in the first place.

"If he wants to get the second five thousand miles he must realize that a tire built to deliver such mileage must have even more than the eight or ten thousand miles he expects built into it at the factory."

EX-SERVICE MEN OF GREENE COUNTY TO AIR COMPLAINTS

Greene county ex-service men having claims for compensation against the government will be given the opportunity to air their grievances before the clean-up squad sent out in Ohio, at the Dayton post office, Friday, September 9th.

This is the announcement made by Miss Louise Shaffer secretary of the Greene County Chapter, Red Cross, who is working in co-operation with the American Legion in the attempt to see that all ex-service men having claim against the government, have their cases attended to while the clean-up squad is in this territory.

The squad will be in Dayton all of the week after next, and Friday has been set as Greene County Day. Cards will be sent out by Joseph P. Poody Post, No. 95, to all members asking that they furnish information regarding men who should have compensation so that their cases can be taken care of at this time, and Miss Shaffer will make out cards of application for compensation to be taken by the man seeking relief before the clean-up squad.

The clean-up squad will then make recommendations to the main office in Washington, D. C., and furnish that office with details of the case. Two weeks' services in getting action on claims has been obtained by the clean-up committee all over the state.

CHECK WORKERS IN SING SING AT WORK

Ossining, N. Y., August 29.—By stealing blank checks, forging the name of Warden Lewis E. Lawes and indorsements of persons dealing with Sing Sing Prison, convicts have defrauded persons outside the prison of $14,000 in the last two months, it was learned Sunday when three prisoners who had access to the checks were paroled in solitary confinement pending investigation.

The men are George Liljewall, forger; "Frenchy" Levine and J. O. Bennett. Liljewall's minimum sentence of two years had expired, and he was about to be discharged when an agent of State Comptroller Wendell's office detected the forgeries by examining prison accounts.

Eight forged checks, paid and canceled, were found among those returned to prison. Inspection of the Comptroller's check showed that the checks had been stolen from it. The thief who took the checks had forged Warden Lawes's name to them.

Those who cashed the checks, and not the state, will have to stand the losses.

This is the third time in four years that convicts accustomed to dealing in prison checks when at large have followed their trade as inmates of Sing Sing. In the two other instances, repeated under the terms of Warden W. H. Moyer and Edward V. Brophy, the state had to pay the losses.

THIS WEEK=IS THE WEEK

THIS week is CEDARVILLE COLLEGE WEEK. As though every week were not.

THIS WEEK, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

THIS WEEK we will put our hands into our pockets or write out our checks in behalf of this Institution of learning, while we think seriously of what it has done for others; what it has done for us, and what it aims to do for EVERY MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD in our community.

WE WILL NOT FORGET that it has given many poor boys and girls an education "without money and without price."

WE WILL bow in appreciation to all its good works. We will open every window in our hearts and permit the influence of its NEVER-SPENT service to permeate every nook and corner.

IT costs more now-a-days to educate boys and girls than it does to run a nation.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE never thinks about the cost, though.

IT PAYS it right off, just as we pay for a beautiful treasure that we value very highly.

IT'S work never ceases. Night and day it labors to prepare boys and girls for the struggles of life.

WE KNOW that the value of its service is greater than gold or diamonds.

THOUGH we help it expand into a larger and greater and better Institution, we know it will continue to be, as it always has been, a tireless worker in behalf of our youth.

THAT IS WHY THE MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN of Greene County carry the College spirit in their hearts.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE makes appeal to every MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD—in the community; for each and every one is its beneficiary.

IF a nation has enough Colleges functioning for EVERYBODY, irrespective of race, color, creed or financial standing, it will never die nor deteriorate.
